ABOUT THE BOOK

Part memoir and part guidebook, Share Your Stuff. I'll Go First. is the invitation you've been waiting for to show up with your whole self and discover the meaningful relationships you long for. No matter how many friends we seem to have, many of us are still lonely and looking for authentic connection with others. Author and Oklahoma native, Laura Tremaine, says it's time for something better. Openness and vulnerability are the foundation for human growth and healthy relationships, and it all starts when we share our stuff, the nitty-gritty daily details about ourselves with others.

Laura has led the way in her personal life with her popular blog and podcast, and now with lighthearted self-awareness, a sensitivity to the important things in life, and compelling storytelling, Laura gives you the tools to build and deepen the conversations happening in your life.

Laura's stories about her childhood in Oklahoma, her complicated shifts in faith and friendships, and her marriage to a Hollywood movie director will prompt you to identify the beautiful narrative and pivotal milestones of your own life.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Laura Tremaine grew up in small town Oklahoma and moved to Los Angeles sight unseen when she was twenty-two years old. She worked in film and television production for many years at MTV, VH1, Fox, and Paramount Pictures before pursuing writing full time.

Laura has been sharing her life online for ten years. She writes about friendship, anxiety, motherhood, and marriage. Her blog posts and podcast episodes resonate with women looking for ways to connect more deeply with others as they transform from one era of life into another.

SEEKING GOD'S GUIDANCE BY ELISABETH ELLIOT

WEDNESDAYS • 10:30AM • JUNE 30-AUG 4 • OKC CAMPUS ROOM 230

Every day we face choices. Sometimes they're simple and ultimately inconsequential. But often our choices affect the rest of our lives. So how do we know what is the right choice? What does God want us to do? And how can we be sure we're hearing him correctly?

In Seeking God's Guidance, Elisabeth Elliot offers insight and observations born from a lifetime of following God's lead to show how and why God guides his children. She invites us to draw closer to God so we can walk confidently, knowing we are in his will.

You are welcome to join at any time. Contact Kaye Gosdin at 580-221-4664 with any questions about this study.

SPRING 2021 MISSION PROJECT

Crossings Women desires to walk in faith, be a voice of hope, and be known by love in our community, both inside and outside the walls of the church. This session, we are focusing our efforts on Positive Tomorrows—the only private school in America solely devoted to educating homeless children. They are leading the charge in developing a comprehensive educational system built to bring students up to level academically and socially, so they can successfully rejoin the public school system. We will be collecting monetary donations to provide items requested for the students and their families.
